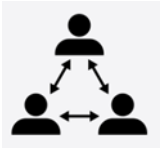
Think Like a humanitarian

- Through Oracy and action, children take pride in being respectful, inclusive individuals with a understanding and appreciation of protected characteristics.
- Develop life skills that are essential for children to reach their full potential
- Develop the skills to manage different influences, challenges and pressures, as part of personal development, in a safe environment.
- Children utilise their passions and empathetic skills to enrich their community and the wider world
- Ambitious and aspirational thinking through our ' mirrors and windows' approach to the curriculum and additional enrichment opportunities.

Key Concepts

The following concepts thread through the curriculum from EYFS to Year 6. Each lesson is taught through one or more of these concepts.

Health & Wellbeing	Relationships	Living in the Wider World



Golden Threads

Diversity	Our children have the knowledge, skills and emotional intelligence needed to play an active, positive and successful role in today's everchanging society. They will champion inclusion.
Democracy	Children understand and demonstrate respect for democracy, Democratic participation and active involvement of all pupils is evident across the school. British Values are embedded.
Sustainability	We learn how actions have a lasting impact upon the world around us. Pupils recognise the impact they can have and their responsibility to care and make reasonable changes to their life-style to ensure sustainability.

Compassionate and Connected Classrooms

PSHE involves themes and activities that may link to sensitive and personal subject matter for children and young people.

It is important that a safe space is provided in the classroom for children to talk. To make children feel safe within the activities, it should be clear that they can contribute to sessions in ways which make them feel comfortable. This might include choosing to talk about their own experiences, using an anonymous example, recording their thoughts in written form, or sharing their concerns outside of the sessions.
